Leadership Governance and Management

6.2.2. Institution implements e-governance in its operations

3. ANNUAL E-GOVERNANCE REPORT

Annual E-Governance Report 2023-2024

Nehru Arts Science and Commerce College Hubli's Annual E-Governance Report for 2023-2024 provides a thorough summary of the college's e-governance achievements and digital transformation.

During a period of swift technical development and growing dependence on digital solutions, the idea of e-governance has become a significant initiative in the field of college administration. The report provides a thorough summary of the institution's activities, successes, setbacks, and future goals as it moves into the field of e-governance.

Initiatives for E-governance

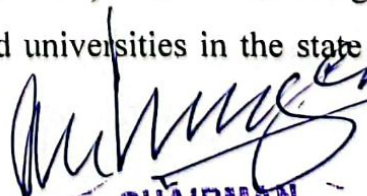

1. Online Admission Data Entry:

The admissions procedure has been in tune with the affiliated university's admission procedures. The academic year, the university's admissions rules governing admissions processes, including the payment of course fees, examination fees, and the other activities, are conducted online. Data input and document verification are part of the college's admissions procedure. The software simplifies the admission process

To enter student information and provide admission numbers, the college uses the portal called Unified University and College Management System. It was initiated by the Department of Higher Education, Government of Karnataka. The Unified University and College Management System (UUCMS) unifies and integrates the functioning and the governance of the college and universities in the state bringing all of them under one umbrella

2. Digilocker:

As part of Digital India plan, the Indian government has introduced the Digilocker digital platform. Students can safely save their important documents, such as exam mark sheet, in Digilocker by connecting with their Academic Bank of Credits ID. According to UGC rules, Academic Bank of Credits ID at present is required for college and university admission commencing from the academic year 2023- 24. It has truly created to help students to overcome the difficulties associated with Aadhaar verification.

The purpose of creating Academic Bank of Credits ID is to provide students with a convenient and secure way to save and access their official documents and certificates in digital format. The chairman and the staff of the college's admissions committee assist students in registering their Academic Bank of Credits ID.

3. Online Education:

The Google Workspace for Education accounts are accessible to both teachers and students. Whenever necessary online lessons are held using Zoom and Google Meet. Google Classroom is the main platform for sharing information, communicating, and turning in assignments. It makes the process of delivering courses more convenient resources for students.

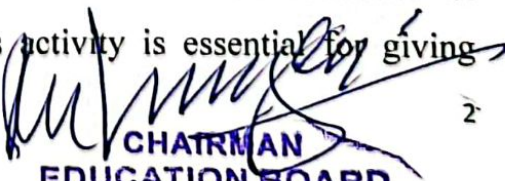

Effective learning is promoted by the digital classroom environment, which improves organisation and engagement. To improve their instructional materials and presentations, faculty members have adopted digital resources such as animation software. These tools make it possible to create dynamic and interactive content, which increases students' interest in and knowledge of online courses.

4. College Website

E-governance system in college plays a vital role for the smooth conduct of administration. Interfaces have been bettered. This activity is essential for giving students easily access to online services. Timely updating the website results in attracting the students for better online services, and especially democratising the process for the students in particular.

CHAIRMAN
EDUCATION BOARD
NEHRU ARTS, SCIENCE & COMMERCE COLLEGE, HUBLI.

So the college website has become a proper channel for sharing the necessary information, to provide a better user experience other than academics. Academic Bank of Credits functions as a proper platform for sharing information about extracurricular accomplishments, academic pursuits, and other events taking place on campus. This makes it possible to communicate with parents, students, and the community at large directly and in real time. This attracts prospective students, who will be looking for a college with a reputation par excellence. Hence the college website also serves an eye-opener with better interface to the website visitors

5. The Human Resource Management System (HRMS):

The Human Resource Management System (HRMS) manages the payroll of staff members. It serves as a better platform for deductions, pay rules, and salary slips associated with it. The college has been successfully generating pay bills, deduction, TDS through this mode.

6. University Grants Commission (UGC) and the E-governance Cell.

Both have helped to create a workplace which will be more open and paperless. The UGC's E-governance division has initiated the web portals and applications to apply online applications and data from HEIs, s. Online correspondence through communication channels like e- mail, e- portal have improved through website..

7. Communication Channels

The college uses Gmail and WhatsApp as the official means of communicating with the Department of Higher education, teachers and students. For the purpose of facilitating contact with students, the staff, the management forms their own. The teachers form WhatsApp group to share information, study material etc.

8. Information and communications technology (ICT):

The ICT facility has enabled teachers to make their teaching in a effective manner. Additionally, it will assist students to become more digitally literate and ready for the modern workforce.

9. Closed Circuit Television (CCTV):

The cameras installed in the campus have served and helped in maintaining order and discipline inside the campus.

10. Electoral Literacy Club:

E-governance has proven successful at the college in the practical approach, to educate the students through PPT presentation. The eligible students are made aware of their right to vote and given information on how to use the Electronic Voting Machines (EVMs), as well as the online registration and electronic voting processes.

11. Systematic Voters' Education and Electoral Participation (SVEEP):

SVEEP activities can effectively enhance online voter registration and simplified voter registration through website, voter helpline app, and mobiles. E-governance succeeds in this practice.

12. Scholarship in supporting the cause of e- governance

National Scholarship Scheme aims to ensure transparency, reduce redundancy, and promote timely disbursement of scholarships to eligible students across India; it's a decisive mechanism in e- governance of the college.

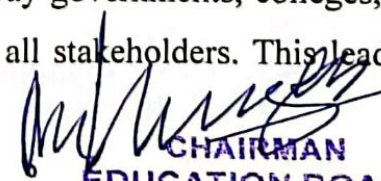

The State Scholarship Portal (SSP) is an online platform that uses e-governance to provide financial assistance to Students in Karnataka: The SSP transfers scholarships directly into the student's Aadhaar-seeded account.

13. The All India Higher Education Survey (AISHE)

AISHE e-governance contributes in improving the way governments, colleges, and institutions function by disseminating information to all stakeholders. This leads to transparency and also eliminates corruption. All India Higher Education Survey helps to portray the status of higher education in the country, the Ministry of Education has been conducting an annual web-based All India Survey on Higher Education (AISHE) since 2010-11. The college has been conducting a survey each academic year. Data is gathered based on a wide range of variables, such as teachers, student enrolment, programs, test scores, education financing, and infrastructure.

14. Karnataka State Open University, Mysore (KSOU)

The college has student support centre. Online Registration using online Admission Portal Application Submission is done online through University portal. The distance mode of education has become a blessing in disguise for the drop out students, especially for girl students' who discontinue their graduation because of issues like marriage.

15. Maulana Azad National Urdu University

The Central university in Hyderabad, Telangana (KSOU)

The College has student support centre. Online Registration using online Admission Portal Application Submission is done online through University portal. The students who can't afford to pay the higher fees opt to study distance with lower fees. The contact programs are conducted and study material is distributed free to the learners.

16. National Council for Promotion of Urdu Language (NCPUL):

It is an autonomous body under the Government of India's Ministry of Education, Department of Higher Education. The council was established to promote, develop, and propagate the Urdu. The council has established these centers across the country to help Urdu-speaking people become part of the employable technological workforce. The college has been regarded as a centre to promote Urdu language for Urdu speaking people.

17. National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC):

PRINCIPAL,
NAHRU ARTS, SCIENCE & COMMERCE COLLEGE
HUBLI,

CHAIRMAN
EDUCATION BOARD
Nahru Arts, Science & Commerce College, HUBLI.

NAAC portal can be used for a variety of purposes, including: Submitting queries: Users can send queries through the NAAC portal's Support/Helpdesk option. Escalating issues: If the issue is not resolved at the first level of contact, the user can escalate it to the first escalation point through their registered email ID.

Uploading documents: Higher educational institutions (HEIs) can upload relevant documents to their website, including the SSR, data templates, annual quality assurance report (AQAR), and accreditation outcome documents. The college has utilised the services through this portal.

Major outcomes of E-governance

1. Digital Document Management:

The digitisation of data and papers has been possible by implementing e-governance initiatives, which has done away with the need for a lot of paperwork and physical storage.

2. Online Application and Processing:

By doing away with the need for paper forms and in-person to college office, the shift to online application submission has shortened wait times and expedited application processing. Falling in line with the ongoing the e-office system, the college has minimised the need for manual involvement and the less possibility of mistakes and delays in administrative procedures.

3. Electronic Payment Systems:

Adoption of electronic payment methods has reduced reliance on physical payments but also has enhanced revenue collection efficiency and transparency.

4. Data Analytics and Reporting:

CHAIRMAN
EDUCATION BOARD
Nehru Arts, Science & Commerce College, HUBLI.

The data stored in the database enables quicker responses to inquiries from higher authorities.

5. Online Communication:

Parents and the general public can stay up to date on college events on our college website.

6. Collaborating Remotely With Students:

The usage of tools apps like Google Meet and even outside of traditional college hours, Zoom allows instructors and students to effectively communicate and respond to questions and conversations.

7. Economy in Administration process:

E-governance has greatly decreased administrative expenses by eliminating the need for physical infrastructure, paperwork, and manual procedures. This financial advantage is especially important for the college. Usually dependent on financial assistance by the UGC and the management.

All the above mentioned accomplishments highlight that e-governance at Nehru Arts Science and Commerce College Hubli and the efforts have brought a revolutionary effect, minimising the expenses, and boosting teacher and student communication and services.
